

Rockingham Meeting House Policy for religious services

The town of Rockingham may waive the rental fee for use of the Rockingham Meeting House by area houses of worship that wish to hold religious services there. These groups must have an established physical presence in the greater Rockingham area and must request the fee be waived at least two weeks prior, provided the following conditions are met:

- Religious services must be scheduled during normal hours of operation (10 a.m. to 4 p.m., seven days a week, from Memorial Day weekend through Indigenous People's Day weekend) and must not last more than 90 minutes.
- The Meeting House must remain accessible to other visitors throughout the service.
- Other events scheduled at the meeting house take precedence.
- Attendance is limited to less than 100 people.
- Absolutely NO open flames are allowed. This includes, but is not limited to, candles and votives.
- No decorations are permitted.
